

Arts Award Takeover Creative Evidencing Ideas

There are various ways to capture evidence, in addition to the pupils filling in log-books. Please use the class iPads to take photos and videos throughout the week and Sarah, Pauline and Jack will also be collecting video / photo evidence.

Then what?

The photos / videos can be used in different ways. For example:

- Store up the photos then create an iMovie trailer to document an activity, a morning, an afternoon, or a day.
- Create an iMovie trailer showing 'the highlights' of the week
N.B. remember that you can embed photos and videos in iMovie trailers and that some templates require more images than others.

Planning templates are here if you want them:

- Try out DoInk with your footage - there is a green screen and stand available to borrow from the Takeover Team Office. Remember you can export these into iMovie.
- Record a pupil 'interview' with Tellagami and import a photo into the background. Remember you can export these into iMovie.
- Create a storyboard with Book Creator
- Save any videos you record as a QR code - print this out as a poster or as a page to stick in log book - see www.qrstuff.com for further info
- Let Pauline know if you have any video footage - she can possibly incorporate it into one of the digital projects.

- Upload into SeeSaw - each class has their own space for sharing work created.
- Bring your class iPad into the Takeover Team Office at the end of the day and upload your photos onto the Team computer so that they can be printed out (although try to go paperless sometimes please!)

Pauline will have some time on Thursday and Friday to help anyone who wants a bit of extra support in creating any digital projects!
